

Note: The following is an excerpt of an article in the Spokesman-Review newspaper in Spokane, Washington.
For more on this and other news from the Spokesman-Review,
see the newspaper's website at: www.spokesmanreview.com

Images of inspiration

Hoping to lure volunteers, Heart Gallery showcases people assisted by DSHS

By Julianne Crane

Spokane Spokesman-Review, May 1, 2005

Somewhere around 100 foster children have shared the home of Linda and Allen Rogers over the past decade.

“Our first foster care children were a nine-month old and a three-year old,” says Linda Rogers of Spokane. “We had them a year, and after that experience we knew this is what we wanted to do with our lives.”

A portrait of the Rogers family is one of 42 absorbing photographs in “The Heart Gallery” opening today in the Kress Gallery at River Park Square.